IN THE HUDDLE

By Steve Snapp

Woody Hayes is starting his second quarter of a century at Ohio State, but the veteran Buckeye mentor hasn't lost one ounce of his enthusiasm for the game.

"Sure I'm enthusiastic," declares Hayes, whose OSU record is a fine 180-52-8 going into today's season opener with visiting Michigan State. "The day I'm not I'll quit."

And Woody, who owns 213 lifetime wins to rank fourth on the all-time victory list, is as optimistic as he is enthusiastic.

"We'll be a green team this year, but we will also be a good team," promises the man who has developed a penchant for turning out great squads instead of just good ones.

Adds the 63-year old Buckeye boss: "Our goal this year is the same as it is every year. We want to win the Big Ten championship."

The Buckeyes, who are seeking an unprecedented fifth straight Big Ten crown and a somewhat amazing tenth consecutive winning season, return 38 lettermen and 10 regulars from last year's 11-1 squad, which became just the third team in Western Conference history to record four consecutive football titles. The number of returning regulars is not great, but it is loaded with quality and Woody feels that he and his staff have come up with some capable replacements for the 12 departed starters.

"We have some good football players returning," he says confidently. "Our job is to get them to play as a unit and this will be a fine Buckeye team."

The OSU staff has recruited a talented freshman class and Hayes feels some of the rookies will make an immediate contribution.

"The freshmen are our ace in the hole," says last year's coach of the year. "They can help us, okay."

There is also optimism in the Michigan State camp.

Coach Darryl Rogers starts his first season at the helm of the Spartans with 36 returning lettermen, including 16 starters from the 1975 team, which posted a 7-4 record overall and tied for third in the Big Ten with a 4-4 mark.

"We feel that we have some outstanding football players," says Rogers, a 14-year veteran of collegiate coaching.

The 41-year old Rogers is especially taken with the Spartan defense, which boasts 7 returning starters.

"I think the main strength of our team lies in the tradition that Michigan State plays good defense," he notes, "I expect us to do so again this fall."

Rogers, who spent the past three seasons at San Jose State where he compiled a 22-9-3 record, believes in a wide-open attack, especially when it comes to the passing game.

"We won't be a pass crazy team, but we probably will pass a little more than is customary in the Big Ten," he acknowledges. "We hope to average 75 offensive plays a game, and of those we want a minimum of 24-28 passes."

So the stage is set for the 1976 season, and from all indications, today's contest is a great way to start.

AUDIBLES: This is the seventeenth meeting between OSU and MSU with the series standing at 8-8-0. The Buckeyes are working on a 24 game win streak in Ohio Stadium dating back to 1971. Ticket Director Bob Ries reports that today will be the 45th consecutive sellout in Ohio Stadium. Both OSU and MSU have brutal early season schedules. The Buckeyes face Penn State, Missouri and UCLA the next three weeks, while the Spartans take on Wyoming, North Carolina State and Notre Dame.

ODDS and ENDS

There are some new faces on the OSU Athletic Department staff this fall. Joining the Buckeye ranks as head coaches are Eldon Miller (Basketball), Chris Ford (Wrestling) and Suguru Furuichi (Volleyball). Additionally, Jerry Bell, who coached the Bucks' lacrosse team last spring, also will coach soccer at Ohio State.

Eldon Miller

Jerry Bell

Other newcomers include Tom Baughman, who takes over as Academic Counselor after serving as a football graduate assistant last year, and Larry Romanoff, who will serve as Baughman's assistant, following a six-month stint in the Ticket Office.

Also new are Gerry Sears and Chuck Machock, named by Miller as assistant basketball coaches.

Miller, 36, was the Mid American Conference Coach of the Year last year at Western Michigan, leading the Broncos to the MAC title and a best ever 25-3 record. A native of Gnadenhutten Ohio, Miller has a 15-year mark of 228-113.

Chris Ford

Tom Baughman

Ford, who has coached wrestling for 20 years and experienced just one losing season, has a similar list of accolades to his credit. The Division III Coach of the Year this past year at Ashland, he compiled an 11-year mark of 106-46-7 at Ashland and led the Purple Eagles to a fourth-place spot in the NCAA Division III championships in 1976.

Furuichi, an OSU assistant last year, has a wealth of coaching experience on the national level. In addition to having coached the U.S. men's team, he also has coached the Brazilian and Indonesian men's national squads.

Bell, a former MVP on the OSU lacrosse team, led the Buckeye stickmen to a 9-3 record last year in his rookie season.

Pete Johnson Fullback

Fullback Pete Johnson heads into his senior year as the defending national scoring champion and the most prolific point producer in Ohio State football history.

The 6-1, 247-pound Johnson, who is bidding to become the Buckeyes' first All-American fullback since John Brockington in 1970, scored a school and Big Ten record 26 touchdowns last year enroute to the NCAA scoring crown. Only Penn State's Lydell Mitchell, with 29 TD's in 1971, has tallied more six pointers in a single season.

Johnson now has 39 TD's at Ohio State and is within striking distance of the NCAA records for career touchdowns and total points. Both marks are held by Army's Glenn Davis, who scored 59 TD's and 359 points during his fabled West Point career. Johnson needs 21 TD's this year to rewrite the record books.

Big Pete, who set an OSU single game record last year with five touchdowns against North Carolina, is best known for his bull-like plunges in short-yardage situations. But the workhorse fullback, who successfully converted 54 of 74 third and fourth down attempts in 1975, is a dangerous runner from anywhere on the field. The Long Beach, New York product was the Buckeyes' second leading rusher a year ago with 1,059 yards and his 60-yard TD jaunt at Purdue was the longest run from scrimmage by an OSU ball carrier.

If Johnson can top the 1,000 yard mark again this year, he would join Archie Griffin as the only OSU runners ever to enjoy back-to-back 1,000 yard seasons. Additionally, another 1,000 yard season would vault Pete, who goes into 1976 with 1,584 career yards, into second place on the all-time OSU rushing list, behind only Griffin, the leading rusher in college football history.

Admittedly, 21 touchdowns and 1,000 yards is a tall order. But Johnson has improved statistically each year and based upon his excellent spring and fall practice, this year should be no exception.

Levi Jackson Fullback

Senior fullback Levi Jackson returns to Michigan State this fall for his final season of consistent and aggressive play.

Jackson stands on the threshold of becoming State's all-time leading ground gainer. His 2,043 yard career total is just 649 shy of Eric Allen's 2,654 yard record. He can also break Allen's mark of 521 career rushing attempts with at least 127 tries in 1976.

However, rushing attempts could be minimized this season under new Spartan head coach Darryl Rogers, who enjoys a bit more aerial fun with the football. But Rogers, despite his pass-oriented offense, sees Jackson as a very important cog in State's scoring machine.

"Levi has the ability to run with tremendous balance and power," notes Rogers. "He doesn't go down easily. He has the God-given talent of maintaining balance when hit and keep going. He runs a lot bigger than he is."

The 5-11, 206-pound Detroiter has lettered in each of his first three years at State. Levi really blossomed in his sophomore campaign of 1974. He picked up All-Big Ten honors after gaining 942 yards, the third highest total ever accumulated by a Spartan back. Jackson stunned Ohio State in November of 1974 with an 88-yard touchdown jaunt that sent MSU to an unbelievable 16-13 upset of then No. 1 ranked OSU and Levi into MSU football lore forever.

Jackson opened 1975 slowly, as he did in 1974. But he untracked quickly in the season's third game against North Carolina State. Levi ran viciously, scoring three touchdowns, while rolling up 108 yards, all in the first half. MSU ended the year at Iowa where Jackson galloped for 180 yards, his finest day ever. The performance put him over the 1,000 mark, only the second Spartan ever to do so. Levi's 1,063 season sum featured five 100 yards and five touchdowns. His 230 attempts during the fall placed second in the all-time records.

HEAD COACH

WOODY HAYES

Woody Hayes and football have become synonymous during the past three decades. So, too, have Woody Hayes and winning.

Hayes, now in his 26th year at Ohio State, is the fourth winningest coach in college football history with 213 victories in 30 seasons. Only Alonzo Stagg, Pop Warner and Bear Bryant have more triumphs than the 63-year old Hayes, who spent three years at Denison and two at Miami (O.) before taking over the Buckeyes in 1951.

Hayes, last year's Coach of the Year when his team won 11 of its 12 starts, has won 180, lost 52 and tied 8 at OSU for a winning percentage of .767. In Big Ten play he owns a 132-33-7 record and has captured 11 conference championships. No other conference school comes close to either figure during the past quarter of a century.

Currently Hayes, who has coached longer in the Big Ten than anyone except Stagg (41-years at Chicago) and Bob Zuppke (29 years at Illinois), is working on a string of four consecutive conference titles and an unprecedented four straight Rose Bowl appearances by the Buckeyes. A Big Ten crown in 1976 would make Ohio State the first team in conference history to win five consecutive championships.

Overall, Hayes, a native of New Philadelphia, O., has taken eight OSU teams to Rose Bowls and produced national championship squads in 1954, 1957 and 1968. His 1969 squad, which posted a 9-1 mark is generally regarded as one of the finest college football teams ever assembled.

Since Woody has coached at Ohio State, the Buckeye school has led the nation in average home game attendance for 21 of the last 25 years and finished second the other four seasons. At the end of 1975, Ohio State owned a string of 44 consecutive home sellouts.

Hayes has spent his entire coaching career within the state of Ohio. After graduating from Denison in 1935, he accepted a position as assistant football coach at Mingo Junction where he remained until being named head coach at New Philadelphia in 1938. He won 19, lost 10 and tied one at New Philly before joining the Navy in 1941.

Following his discharge, Hayes returned to Denison to embark upon a collegiate coaching career. In the time since, he has become one of the most respected and most successful coaches the profession has ever known.

In this 1950 photograph, University Hospital dominates the growing medical complex. When the new hospital was completed in 1952, Starling-Loving Hospital became Starling-Loving Hall and the modern new University Hospital took over most medical care.

Today, the area south of the hospital is the construction site of a new clinical facility, the James A. Rhodes Hall-University Hospital.

Building a dream

OSU Hospitals:

By 1929, Starling-Loving Hospital had absorbed the first building. The old hospital became the east wing of the new medical facility.

The first building ever constructed on campus specifically for medical care opened in 1916, replacing the South Dorm which had been used as the campus hospital.

Steel, mortar, lumber and glass first began to take shape in 1948 as University Hospital, Ohio State University's 1,000-bed teaching hospital serving both students and the people of Ohio.

Today, nearly 30 years later, hammers are ringing again, towering cranes are hoisting steel beams and tons of concrete are being poured into what was barely a dream then: a $40.8 million, 12-story clinical facility which will adjoin the original hospital.

The addition will provide essential support and auxiliary services for the hospital, as well as a 362-patient bed tower, 400-seat auditorium and clinical classrooms.

It is the culmination of a 10-year, $97 million expansion through federal, state and university funding in an effort to bring Ohioans the best in medical and allied health education and in direct health care.

The original hospital and the addition now are called James A. Rhodes Hall-University Hospital, in honor of Gov. Rhodes and his dedicated support of the medical center's development into one of the finest facilities in the world.

State and federal officials, members of the U.S. Congress and state legis-

Family practice is the specialty that is helping to ease the health care problems in small communities. Of graduates since 1969, 65 percent have gone into communities of less than 30,000.

The Ohio Valley Medical Microwave Television System links University Hospitals with two Southeastern Ohio health care institutions and makes possible physician teleconsultation in difficult medical cases. The system also is used for continuing education and inservice training.

on the frontiers of medicine lators all have played key roles in assuring this standard of health care excellence. Today is Government Day, recognizing their contributions.

And the return Ohio citizens receive on their investment?

- Two out of three of the 197 graduates of the College of Medicine this year now are in the front lines of medical care — 45 in family practice, 65 in internal medicine, 17 in pediatrics and 12 in obstetrics and gynecology.

- 28,000 people received inpatient care last year at University Hospitals and 239,000 patient visits were made to the new outpatient clinic, including 13,000 at the Family Medicine Clinic.

- Ohio State's Acute Spinal Cord Injury Center, one of five in the nation, is probing experimental evidence which suggests para and quadriplegic paralysis suffered in auto, diving and other accidents may be reversible.

- The national battle against cancer is being waged in University Hospitals' new 16-bed Interdisciplinary Oncology Unit, part of the OSU Comprehensive Cancer Research Center. Countless Ohioans have received expert treatment designed by authorities in diagnosis, surgery, radiotherapy, chemotherapy, rehabilitation, oncology nursing and social problem counseling.

- "If you're going to suffer a heart attack, you'd probably be 'fortunate' if it happened here," said the Wall Street Journal in a Columbus-dated article in 1973. The city's emergency medical squad system is one of the best in the country, the article noted, a result of efforts to improve "street medicine" delivery launched by University Hospitals, the Columbus Division of Fire and the Central Ohio Heart Association.

- Ohioans in any part of the state needing specialized medical treatment not available near their homes are a quick medicopter lift away from University Hospitals' comprehensive and specialized care. The medically equipped and staffed UH-19D helicopter is a 24-hour on-call transport system providing hospital-to-hospital patient transport and vital emergency care.

- Ohio State researchers are testing a promising new treatment for sickle cell anemia, a genetic blood disorder afflicting about 1 per cent of the nation's black population. The new treatment is being tested in animals now, and could reduce the anemia and pain sufferers of the disease experience, allowing them to lead more productive lives.

The recently-installed Computer Assisted Tomographic brain scanner will reduce patient costs by shortening hospital stays and eliminating the need for exploratory surgery. Computer analysis of the x-rays produces a photograph representing a cross-section of the brain.

Pfeifer Printing Company
"NEARLY A CENTURY OF SERVICE"

Pfeifer Printing means more than just quality printing.
We offer complete art and layout services, typesetting, photographic skills, and, of course, fine printing in black and white and color.

What does this mean to our customers? It means one stop service, no running to an agency for art work, to a studio for pictures, to a typesetter for a couple lines of type. This saves time, which in turn saves money.

As Columbus' oldest commercial printing company, we know our business. Feel free to call one of our competent representatives for advice on your next printing job.

1975 Pictorial Highlights

↑ POPULAR PETE — Buckeye fullback Pete Johnson is mobbed by jubilant teammates after scoring the winning touchdown in Ohio State's 21-14 win over Michigan. Johnson scored a Big Ten record 26 TD's in 1975 to win the national scoring title.

DOING HIS THING — Safety Tim Fox flips for joy after scoring a touchdown against Illinois. Fox executed his unique TD dance twice last season, against Wisconsin following a 75-yard punt return and against the Illini after scoring on a 20-yard pass interception.

A Season of Excitement

NOBODY ANY BETTER — Tailback Archie Griffin picks up 23 yards against Purdue on this play to surpass former Cornell star Ed Marinaro as college football's all-time leading rusher. Griffin rushed for 1,450 yards last year to close out his career with 5,177 yards.

RECORD SETTER — Tom Skladany is best known for his punting prowess, but the Buckeye kicker is shown here as he sets a Big 10 record by connecting on a 59-yard field goal at Illinois. Ironically, Skladany's successful boot was the first three-pointer of his collegiate career.

Ralph Staub — Offensive Coordinator

COACH'S PROFILE

Ralph Staub is the offensive coordinator and coach of the tackles, guards and centers on offense at Ohio State. He joined the Buckeye staff January 15, 1970, coming from Northwestern University.

A native of Cincinnati and a 1952 graduate of the University of Cincinnati, Staub was a standout end on the powerful Bearcat teams of 1949, '50 and '51.

He began his coaching career in 1952 as head coach at Deer Park High in Cincinnati. He went to Louisville, Ohio, High School, for two years and returned to Cincinnati in 1955 as head coach and athletic director at Greenhills High for a nine-year period.

Staub's first college job was in 1964 as offensive line coach at the University of Cincinnati. He coached there five years before going to Northwestern in 1969 as offensive line coach.

At Ohio State, Staub, who is the Buckeyes' recruiting coordinator, has developed a number of stand-out players, including All-American and Outland Trophy winner John Hicks, and All-Americans Kurt Schumacher and Doug France.

Ralph and his wife, Jane, have four children, Gale, Nancy, Carrie and Danny.

THAT'S RIGHT . . . WE'RE THE FLAG-WAVERS!

. . . There are all kinds of flag-wavers in this world who wave flags for all sorts of reasons. The Ohio State University Alumni Association, the official organization of graduates and former students of The Ohio State University, has a membership of some 72,000 strong. We stand behind and support the Scarlet and Gray. You can, too, in many different ways. One way, visible to many, is to display a Buckeye Flag.

Each flag measures 3' x 5', a gray block "O" on each side sets on a scarlet field, grommet holes on one end permit easy attaching, and the durable nylon and tackle-twill material means it will be flying long after the game with that "other team."

For each flag please send $12.00 (shipping and tax included). Checks should be made payable to: Ohio State Alumni Association. Send your order to: Ohio State Alumni Association, Alumni House, 2400 Olentangy River Road, Columbus, Ohio, 43210.

You'll like the price and mileage. You'll also like the car.

Prices start at $2899*
2-Seat Scooter $2899*
The Coupe (shown) $3098*

*Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price including dealer preparation. Tax, license, destination charge and available equipment additional.

40 MPG HIGHWAY

28 MPG CITY

EPA mileage with standard 1.4-litre engine, 4-speed manual transmission and standard 3.70:1 rear axle. (Remember—these mileage figures are estimates. The actual mileage you get will vary depending on the type of driving you do, your driving habits, your car's condition and available equipment. In California, see your Chevy dealer for EPA mileage figures on California emission-equipped cars.)

Puts headlight dimmer, turn signal, windshield washers, windshield wipers and lane-change signal all at your fingertip.

Short turning circle.

At 30.2 feet, Chevette has one of the shortest turning circles of any car sold in the world. You'll appreciate it every time you park, back up or maneuver.

Rack-and-pinion steering.

European-style. Compact and lightweight.

Diagnostic connector.

Lets you diagnose primary ignition circuit and other parts of the electrical system.

Freedom battery.

Freedom from worry about adding water or checking water levels. Sealed side terminals resist corrosion buildup.

Chevrolet

6,030 dealers

That's nearly twice as many as VW, Toyota and Datsun combined. Parts and service are always nearby.

Room for four.

With space for luggage behind the back seat. Seat folds down for expanded load space, accessible through rear hatch.

Muscles alone aren't enough.

Even the toughest pro needs protection. Shoulder pads, hip pads, helmet—with these, a player can give the game all he's got, without fear of injury.

Life is much the same. Good health is important, but to get the most out of life, you need protection, too. That's where life insurance comes in. It can give you the security of knowing that your family will be protected, if you die. And, it can provide a reserve of funds for emergencies, education, retirement. To find out more about life insurance, call your Agent from The Equitable, today.

So You Think You Know the Rules?

by VOLNEY MEECE, Oklahoma City Times

So you're a college football fanatic and think you know all the rules in the book, eh?

Don't bet on it.

For instance, rule 9-2A1, which went into effect in 1975 but may have escaped your attention. It says, put into simpler-than-the-rule-book language, "use of gestures or acts that provoke ill will is a non-contact, 15-yard penalty foul."

Naughty language is included among acts covered by the rule, which was aimed at stopping the "intimidation" or "showing up" of another player or official. In other words, things like a receiver who's just beaten a defender on a pass taunting the latter by flaunting the ball in front of his face or popping off.

Most fans probably went the entire 1975 season without seeing such a call. Cliff Speegle, Southwest Conference executive secretary who became chairman of the NCAA rules committee Sept. 1, 1975 when John Waldorf of the Big Eight retired, said it was called a couple of times in his league.

No Mob Scenes

Another recent change which sometimes confuses fans who aren't up on their rules was outlawing of the "idiot drill."

Speegle said the idiot drill "is where the whole team assembles in the end zone on a touchdown or runs out on the field when a guy intercepts a pass and beat him to death."

"The coaches used to go down in the end zone when a kid scored a touchdown but they started assessing a 15-yard penalty so the coaches decided maybe it was a little better to stay in the bench area."

Speegle pointed out, "There's another rule a lot of people have a problem with, the 12-men-on-the-field rule. If a youngster is attempting to get off the field, it's five yards. But if he is part of the play, then it's 15."

Judgment calls are a thorn in rulesmakers' sides, of course, not to mention those of players, coaches—and the officials themselves. The No. 1 matter of judgment, and controversy, is, has been and always will be pass interference.

Speaking of judgment calls, a goodly percentage of fans (and probably coaches and players) holds the opinion, "You could call holding on every play." Not because of such criticism, of course, but starting this season offensive blockers will get a little "relief."

Speegle said, in untechnical terms, the blocker may allow his hands stray away from his body during contact. There are restrictions: The arms can't be more than half extended and the palms can't be facing the opponent.

The Ump Ain't Blind

Incidentally, 'tain't so any official can call holding on any play. The main area of holding, across the interior line, is the responsibility of the umpire. Other officials aren't looking for holding, they're scanning specifically assigned areas in the flow of the play.

In 1976, there's one new rule

Speegle termed "real vital. That is the youngster who tackles a runner deliberately with the top of his head gets a 15-yard penalty. We're trying to get that youngster to get his head up. We're trying to protect him from injury."

Although many fans know what's going on when officials start blowing their whistles and signalling penalties, few know about the striped-shirters' pre-game duties. They don't just get out of the car and walk on-field for the kickoff.

An Ounce of Prevention

Speegle said, "The referee, umpire or one other official go into the team dressing room approximately an hour before the game and check for illegal equipment."

"And they check for any specific instructions—unusual plays, etc., that the coach would like to reveal. Also, they go over game procedures—flip, kickoff, etc.—with the head coach."

Most major conferences have an observer at each game. One of his main duties is meeting with officials beforehand. "In the Southwest Conference," Speegle said, "It's in our regulations that we have at least 1½ hours of uninterrupted game-action discussion. We start with the flip of the coin, who brings the captains out, how they're introduced, the whole procedure of the game."

"We go over every situation we can anticipate—type of formations, types of plays, unusual situations. No, you never get everything. But, basically, if you get all the routine plays, the others will take care of themselves."

The first "Script Ohio" was formed on the football field on "Dads' Day," Oct. 24, 1936. The Buckeyes played Indiana that day and as Ohio State won the ball game 7-0, the band scored another success, establishing a trademark that has been part of half-time ceremonies, win or lose, for the past forty years. Ohio Stadium: landmark in music

By William F. Rounds

Today a national organization establishes this Stadium as a landmark of American music.

In so doing, the National Music Council pays tribute to a man whose directorship of the Marching Band is considered to have begun the modern era for this nationally known, respected and widely imitated organization.

The late Eugene J. Weigel guided the band as its director from 1929-38. Although that service ended nearly forty years ago, the influence of his originality and dedication still is strongly felt.

It is literally true that the sight and sound of the band's performance this afternoon remain as testimony to Prof. Weigel's innovativeness. The "Script Ohio," for example, has been a familiar Autumn sight since he developed the formation in 1936. Over the years it has become the band trademark. And the band's all-brass sound dates from 1934, when he adopted this instrumental concept that required special design and custom building of various instruments.

It is as founder of the first American university all-brass marching band, and as composer and educator, that Prof. Weigel is memorialized today by the National Music Council. The bronze Landmark plaque to be presented at half-time ceremonies on the west side of the field will be erected later at the north end of the Stadium.

A Cleveland native and holder of two Ohio State degrees, Eugene Weigel returned to the campus in 1929 as a professor in the Department of Music and as director of the Marching Band and other musical organizations. He held this directorship for nine productive years and became chairman of Music in 1940. Five years later, when the department became the School of Music, he was made its director. He continued in that administrative post until his retirement in 1959. His death occurred on Aug. 11, 1973.

Prof. Weigel was active in the cultural life of the community, serving as conductor of the Columbus Civic Opera Company and president of the Columbus Philharmonic Association. For his accomplishments in music education, he received the Ohio Music Education Association's Distinguished Service Award in 1957. The University gave him its own Distinguished Service Award in 1960.

Present for the ceremonies on the field this afternoon will be Prof. Weigel's widow, Mrs. Margaret Weigel, a daughter and several grandchildren. Sharing in the presentation by the National Music Council are the Marching Band alumni club and Exxon Corp., through its support of the Council's Landmark Program.

Eugene J. Weigel sat for this portrait in the band uniform he wore in 1934. He turned that uniform in four years later for the suitcoat and tie of an administrator, and eventually shaved off his moustache. But "Script Ohio" remained intact, a lasting tribute to the tradition he began when he founded the first American university all-brass marching band.

The Marching Band, directed by Dr. Paul E. Droste, is among some 15 major musical organizations supervised by the University's School of Music. These groups make more than 200 public performances each year. Prof. Robert Y. Hare is director of the School, which has a faculty of more than 60, including internationally known performing artists, scholars and master teachers. The School serves some 700 undergraduate and graduate music majors and in addition offers academic and performing opportunities to the entire student body.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY MARCHING BAND

Today's performance of the Triple Script Ohio has special significance. The drum major of the West Alumni Script is J. Wesley Leas who led the very first Script Ohio on October 24, 1936. The East Alumni Script is led by Robert Gulcher, drum major in 1943.

Eugene J. Weigel has been selected as a recipient of a "Bicentennial Music Landmark Award" by the National Music Council. This plaque will be permanently installed near the north arch in Ohio Stadium. It will be presented to Dr. Harold Enarson, OSU President, by Ziggy Coyle, past-president of The TBDBITL Alumni Club and a member of the National Music Council Selection Committee.

More than 350 former band members have returned for the eighth reunion of the TBDBITL Alumni Club. Today's halftime show honors the late Eugene J. Weigel, Director of the Marching Band from 1929 through 1938, for his roles in developing the all-brass band and originating the Script Ohio.

John Philip Sousa is being recognized for his enshrinement in the Hall of Fame for Great Americans on August 23, 1976. He is the ninety-ninth Great American and only the third musician to be honored in this way.

Sousa's immortal "The Stars and Stripes Forever" and Irving Berlin's "God Bless America" are being performed in recognition of the Bicentennial of the United States of America.

Golfer Ralph Guarasci enjoyed a sensational sophomore year in 1976, capturing medalist honors at the Big Ten tournament and winning a spot on the Coaches All-America team. Guarasci led the Buckeyes to eight tournament wins last year, including the Big Ten title.

Ohio State divers annually dominate the Big Ten meet and last year was no exception as sophomore Frank D'Amico won the one-meter springboard title and took a sixth in the three-meter competition.

Buckeye Athletes Standout in 1975-76

A number of Ohio State athletes enjoyed outstanding seasons last year. Pictured on this page are seven of those athletes who distinguished themselves either by winning a Big Ten title or gaining All-American recognition.

All seven of the performers shown here return this year, meaning Buckeye sports teams should be in for another successful campaign during the 1976-77 season.

Not shown are graduated Dave

Patten, who won a Big Ten tennis title at the No. 4 singles position, and Jerry Mahon, who was named to the All-Big Ten baseball squad after hitting .367 for the Buckeyes.

Other top performers from a year ago include golfer Mark Balen, who became the first freshman ever to win the Les Bolstad award for low stroke average in the Big Ten, and hockey star Bruce Allworth, who finished second nationally in scoring last year with an amazing 93 points.

Kevin Quigley, who will be a senior this year, posted a 14-2 record as a junior and was named to the College Wrestling All-America Team. With Quigley leading the way, the Buckeyes notched an 11-5 record last year.

ior Tom Byers is shown here as he cures his third consecutive Big Ten -yard run title. Byers is the American rd holder in the 1,000 with a time of 6.

Buckeye tennis star Francis Gonzalez signals victory after capturing his second consecutive Big Ten singles championship. The Buckeye junior posted a 24-5 record last year, earning all-American honors for the second straight season and helping OSU to a best ever 18-7 record.

Fencer Craig Bland notched a 37-11 record and won the Big Ten foil crown last year as a junior. The Buckeye fencers won 15 and lost two a year ago and finished second at the conference meet.

Freshman Rod Newland won the Big Ten vaulting title last year. Newland also took sixth at the NCAA meet for Ohio State's gymnastics team.

OHIO STATE SONGS

ACROSS THE FIELD

Fight that team across the field,
Show them Ohio's here,
Set the earth reverberating with a mighty cheer
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Hit them hard and see how they fall;
Never let that team get the ball,
Hail! Hail! the gang's all here,
So let's win that old conference now.

CARMEN OHIO

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship O-hi-o.

BUCKEYE BATTLE CRY

In old Ohio there's a team,
That's known thru-out the land;
Eleven warriors, brave and bold,
Whose fame will ever stand,
And when the ball goes over,
Our cheers will reach the sky,
Ohio Field will hear again
The Buckeye Battle Cry —

Drive! Drive on down the field,
Men of the scarlet and gray;
Don't let them thru that line,
We have to win this game today,
Come on, Ohio!
Smash thru to victory
We cheer you as we go:
Our honor defend
So we'll fight to the end for O Hi o.

FINGERTIP INSTANT FOCUSING

Try using ordinary binoculars to follow the Quarterback fading back for a pass and then switching to a wide receiver sprinting into the end zone. Can't be done. Because no matter how good your binoculars are, you miss a lot of the action if you can't change focus fast enough.

Bushnell's unique Insta-Focus ends this problem forever. With Insta-Focus you can change focus as often as you want — instantly. Bushnell binoculars with Insta-Focus are the only binoculars made specifically for the fan of fast moving sports action. Racing, hunting, bird watching, anything. See them for yourself in better camera and sporting goods stores everywhere.

BUCKEYE SOCCER TEAM SET TO OPEN

Coach Jerry Bell

Fans at Ohio Stadium today will see two types of football — the crunching ground game of Ohio State and the wide open passing attack of Michigan State. For those spectators interested in a third variation of the game, the Ohio State soccer team unofficially opens its 1976 season this coming Saturday with its traditional Alumni game.

Starting time is 10:30 A.M. at the Biggs Athletic Facility and first-year coach Jerry Bell is anxiously awaiting the debut of this year's squad.

"We have had a good fall practice session and I am anxious to see what we can do against someone else," the new coach declared. "It's difficult to evaluate yourself when all you have to go on is practice. I'm hoping the alumni game will give me a good reading on this team."

Bell, who also coaches the Buckeye lacrosse team and last year led the OSU stickmen to a 9-3 finish, inherits 11 lettermen from the 1975 soccer squad, which posted a 5-6-2 record. The new Buckeye boss thinks that record can be improved upon this year.

"I don't think there is any doubt about it," he says unhesitatingly. "We have a good nucleus of players returning and our freshman class and transfer students will provide a solid supporting cast."

The Buckeyes launch their tough 13-game schedule Sept. 22 against visiting Miami. That's the first of seven home games on tap for Bell's kickers, who will be led by seniors Javier Castillejos and Gary Kubala, a pair of genuine All-American candidates at midfield.

"They are both something special," assures Bell. "They will be our leaders on and off the field this year."

Other top players include Tom McCardle, Klaus Lambeck, Ardie Singh and Aldis Berzins on the offensive line, and defensive standouts Mike Graham, Marcus Collier and Bill Arnold. Also back is soph goalie Greg Anderson, who enjoyed a fine year in 1975.

Once again, TV service technicians give these opinions about Zenith:

We're proud of our record of building dependable quality products. But if it should ever happen that a Zenith product doesn't live up to your expectations—or if you want details of the service technicians' survey—write to the Vice President, Consumer Affairs, Zenith Radio Corporation, 1900 N. Austin Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60639.
